FOUND IN A WOMAN'S BEDROOM

REMARKABLE RESULT OF A DISCOVERY MADE IN A TOWN IN GEORGIA LAST WEEK.

Last Tuesday night, just before daylight, a woman in Quitman, Ga., found in her bedroom a drove of mos-quitoes. As quickly as possible, she arose, got a bottle of "Torment" and began spraying it around. In less than twenty minutes every mosquito was a corpse. You will have the same experience if you try it for mosqui-toes and flies. Torment is a new prepa-ration, manufactured by the G. B. Williams Company, Quitman, Ga. It is a sure death to flies and mosquitoes, will not stain clothing nor furniture, and is absolutely harmless to human beings. Sold by all wholesale and re-tail dealers. Price, 25c a bottle.—ad. WHAT MUST A MAN PAY? For The Best Answer, See These Kirschbaum Clothes

FIRST, the quality must be right. A cotton-mixed garment, poorly cut and cheaply tailored is dear—no matter how low the price. The fact is, you can't afford to pay less than the price of Kirschbaum Clothes if you want the same quality in the same full measure.

SOLDIERS PLAN FOR BIG CELEBRATION

ALSO TAKE STEPS TO ORGANIZE A COMMANDERY FOR SOLDIERS OF BULLOCH COUNTY.

At the mass meeting of the re-turned soldiers held on Friday after-noon, which was called by Chairman Dr. A. J. Mooney for the purpose of planning for the part the soldiers will take in the homecoming celebration to be held here on July 4th, a pro-gram was agreed upon which was thought by the members present to be fitting and proper for the occa-sion.

There were about a hundred sol-diers and sailors present who voted unanimously to carry out the fol-lowing program on the 4th:

All soldiers, sailors and marines who served either on this side the ocean or in France during the war with Germany are requested to meet at the court house Thursday p. m., July 3rd, at 4 o'clock (fast time) in uniform, to organize themselves into detachments or platoons, and perfect an organization. If any cannot be here on the third, they are urged to meet at the court house on the 4th promptly at 10 o'clock. The uniform will be olive drab trousers and shirt, without blouses, campaign hats or overseas caps, russet shoes. Return-ed sailors will please come in uniform, preferably white.

The line of march will be from the square to the Central of Georgia de-pot, and from there up East Main street through town to Brannen Park on West Main street. Lieut. Rupert Rackley will be in command of the parade. Federal veterans and Spanish-Amer-ican war veterans are earnestly re-quested and cordially invited to be present and participate in the parade.

After the discussion and settle-ment of the above arrangements for the fourth, it was proposed by a chairman that a district committee be perfected, and that all men who served in any branch of the service in the World War be eligible. This met the hearty approval of all present, and upon motion Dr. A. J. Mooney was elected temporary chair-man and J. H. Mathews temporary secretary.

It was then moved and second-ed that a committee be elected to draft a constitution and by-laws for the proposed organization, which was carried. Capt. Herbert Kennedy, Lieut. Leroy Covart and Lieut. Rup-ert Rackley were selected to draw up the constitution and by-laws. This full is published below, and all sol-diers are requested to read it care-fully, and if there are no objections, adopt it when they meet on the 3rd of July.

Proposed constitution and by-laws for Bulloch County Commandery of the soldiers of the War with Ger-many:

Whereas, In the providence of God, victory crowned the efforts of the forces of the Allied nations of the world engaged in establishing and maintaining the great principles of democracy and human liberty in the world;

And, whereas, Bulloch county so nobly responded in this cause by sending her sons and maintaining all the principles for which they nobly contended, both at home and abroad in the War with Germany;

Therefore, The Bulloch County Com-mandery of the Soldiers of the War with Germany has been instituted to honor and perpetuate the names of the brave and loyal men; to keep in mind the memory of their glorious deeds and the victories which they helped to gain; to strengthen the ties of fellowship among returned soldiers, and to maintain national honor, union and independence.

This organization shall be known as the Bulloch County Commandery of the Soldiers of the War with Ger-many.

This organization acknowledges as its fundamental principles:

First—A firm belief and trust in Almighty God, extolling Him under whose benevolent guidance the prin-ciples contended for have been se-cured and the blessings of civil lib-erty established.

Second—True allegiance to the United States of America and a firm belief in distinct American prin-ciples, based upon a paramount re-spect for and fidelity to the national constitution and laws pursuant thereto.

CAPITAL REMOVAL DOMINATING ISSUE

BOTH BRANCHES OF LEGISLA-TURE WANT IT SETTLED BY THE PEOPLE.

Atlanta, June 24.—A stone moun-tain pushed up in front of the propo-sition now would keep from coming to a vote in this session of the leg-islature the proposition to submit to a vote of the people the issue of re-moval of the state capital from At-lanta to Macon.

When the members of the two branches began to arrive, there was an atmosphere of something like si-lent mystery, but it broke forth open-ly and strongly this afternoon when the Atlanta afternoon newspapers re-ferred to what was happening and printed front page stories announcing that the issue will be pitched for settle-ment in the very first days of the session.

Throughout the day this has been the most talked-of and strenuously urged of all the prospective legisla-tion, not excluding the administration bills and it has been the marked exception when a member of either branch has been found opposed to the proposition that the issue must be settled this year so far as the legis-lature is concerned, and that the bill will be passed submitting it to the people at the next general election.

Advocates of the bill, and many of them are from the upper part of the state, take a position similar to that announced by Gov. Dorsey that it is a handicap on the state for it to re-main an unsettled agitation and it should speedily be brought to an end, one way or other by verdict at the ballot box.

For the purpose of the backers of the measure to introduce it simultane-ously in both branches so soon as the roll call is opened for new bills and they claim at this time an excess over the number required to insure its passage. The bill is to be especially strong in the senate and the belief is expressed that it will pass that body within three weeks.

PRESIDENT WILL BE IN U. S. IN TEN DAYS

CABLES SECRETARY TUMULTU-ously THAT HE EXPECTS TO LEAVE BREST THURSDAY.

Washington, June 23.—President Wilson cabled Secretary Tumulty to-day that he expected to leave Brest on his homeward journey Thursday.

The president should make the re-turn trip within a week and immedi-ately after his arrival here he will personally present the peace treaty to the senate for ratification. After he clears his desk of accumulated work he will make a "swing around the circle" speaking in support of the treaty and the league of nations cov-enant.

One battleship and four destroy-ers will complete the escort of the George Washington. In mid-ocean four destroyers from the Azores will relieve the original four.

Brest, June 23.—The U. S. S. George Washington which will carry President Wilson back to the United States, received orders today to be ready to sail Thursday morning. The work of loading the transport began this evening.

INTEREST HIGH IN SOLDIERS' PICNIC

PLANS NEARING MATURITY FOR ENTERTAINING BIG CROWD ON THE FOURTH.

With a few minor details to be ar-ranged, plans for the big home-com-coming celebration on July fourth, in honor of the soldier boys, are well nigh complete.

It is going to be a big day, weather permitting. It is expected that the crowd will be the largest ever seen in the town, and possibly more. With few exceptions, the country districts have responded with their quota of meat and cash for the oc-casion, and those who are yet behind are expected to come in with their just share of the undertaking. It is not a local gathering. Bulloch county is uniting to celebrate the home-coming of the Bulloch county boys. Every district in the county is rep-resented in the organization, and ev-ery district will have a share in the entertainment. There may have been no social gatherings in the past where one section entertained and where the other side were guests—but it is not to be that way this time. Every man in the county has been asked to contribute to the immen-sity of the occasion, and few have re-sisted. These few will stay away rather than feel their littleness at re-fusing to take a part in the enter-tainment.

As to the dinner, plans have been made by the committee for barbecue dinner only. No baskets will be spread on the tables. Those who care to be welcome to bring baskets and gather in sociable groups about the grounds, and to receive meat and bread and stew from the table, while free lemonade is to be served every-body. It is desired to be understood that no attempt will be made to re-serve tables for banquet dinner.—ONT BARBECUE, BRAD AND STEW.

Committees have been appointed to serve the crowd with meat, bread and lemonade. Fifty ladies will serve the barbecue, tables, and as many men will serve lemonade and assist in other ways, in taking care of the crowd.

As is indicated by the program an-nounced by the soldiers' organiza-tion, the parade will be from the Central depot to Brannen Park at 10 o'clock. Besides the recently returned soldiers, the parade will include Ger-man ships, and in the case of de-structors considerable success was achieved. By 1 o'clock in the af-ternoon, however, what an hour before had been a stately file riding calmly at anchor was an array of reeling, rocking battleships, the doom of which was written in their move-ments.

Here a destroyer would disappear amid a cloud of steam, and there a battleship would take her last plunge and disappear in a cloud of spray. One would settle down by the stern and another would knock over the only the keel showed above the water. The Derfflinger, Hindenburg, Von de Tann, Moltke and Seydlitz settled down beside each other, the last named turned turtle as she filled with water. Her keel is still showing where she capsized. The waters of Scaupa Flow were dotted with small boats full of men, who had with dramatic suddenness settled the ques-tion of the disposition of the inter-mediate ships.

The first boat load was towed along-side of H. M. S. Victoria by a drift-er. A German officer in the boat or-dered his men to cheer. They responded with three vigorous "hoos." Craft of every description followed fast to the side of the warship, each towing boat loads of Germans, who were taken on board the victorious, the deck in connection with the sale of that road. The road has been ordered sold by the court on the first day of July. A pre-vious order was issued by the court for its sale, but for want of a satis-factory bid the sale was postponed.

WILHELM ORDERED HUN SHIPS SUNK

ADMIRAL VON REUTER CARRIED OUT DIRECTIONS OF FORMER GERMAN EMPEROR.

London, June 23.—Although re-ports have stated that six German vessels were killed and ten wounded when the boats of the German fleet at Scaupa Flow were fired upon subse-quent to the scuttling of the German fleet, the Daily Mail adds, and did so because the German emperor directed that no German warship should fall into the enemy's hands. He says that he be-lieved, from newspaper reports, that the armistice had been ended.

Admiral Von Reuter visited Ger-many, where he was warmly wel-comed at the time that the reason for his trip there was that he was ill, but he soon returned, and it is believed that at that time he circulated the order to sink the German ships by signaling the censorship or making signals to the various vessels, an act which was close proximity of the Ger-man ships made quite easy. The Mail quotes the admiralty as denying that the German crews remained on board the vessels. There were from 150 to 200 men on the big ships and from ten to twenty on board the destroyers. The crews were ordered to beach themselves in the water or in the ships' bows when the fleet was sunk. Four-teen were landed by the British on Sunday at Nigg, Rushmore, on the northern shore of Cromarty Firth. They were placed in hutments and are being guarded by British troops.

From the behavior of the ships, ac-cording to the Mail, it was evident the sea valves had been opened and in a surprisingly short time the ves-sels, big and small, began to settle down. Every effort was made by the British to sink the German ships, and in the case of de-structors considerable success was achieved. By 1 o'clock in the af-ternoon, however, what an hour before had been a stately file riding calmly at anchor was an array of reeling, rocking battleships, the doom of which was written in their move-ments.

Here a destroyer would disappear amid a cloud of steam, and there a battleship would take her last plunge and disappear in a cloud of spray. One would settle down by the stern and another would knock over the only the keel showed above the water. The Derfflinger, Hindenburg, Von de Tann, Moltke and Seydlitz settled down beside each other, the last named turned turtle as she filled with water. Her keel is still showing where she capsized. The waters of Scaupa Flow were dotted with small boats full of men, who had with dramatic suddenness settled the ques-tion of the disposition of the inter-mediate ships.

The first boat load was towed along-side of H. M. S. Victoria by a drift-er. A German officer in the boat or-dered his men to cheer. They responded with three vigorous "hoos." Craft of every description followed fast to the side of the warship, each towing boat loads of Germans, who were taken on board the victorious, the deck in connection with the sale of that road. The road has been ordered sold by the court on the first day of July. A pre-vious order was issued by the court for its sale, but for want of a satis-factory bid the sale was postponed.

44-HOUR WEEK IS LABOR'S NEXT FIGHT

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LA-BOR PLEDGES ITSELF TO OB-TAIN THESE HOURS.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 23.—The American Federation of Labor, at the closing session here today of its annual convention, pledged itself to obtain a general 44-hour week for workers in all crafts throughout the United States and for employees in the government service. The demand was based on a determination to pre-vent unemployment, which the pri-mary causes of industrial unrest. The other cause is the decreased purchas-ing power of the dollar. Manufactur-ers and employers were urged to "bridge the gap" and increase wages, "without any controversy."

Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, was greeted with a roar of cheers late in the day where he an-nounced from the platform that "three of the four great railroad brother-hoods—the engineers, conductors and trainmen—had applied for charter in the federation.

The fourth brotherhood, the fire-men, was meeting in Denver to con-sider a similar application, he asserted. If the firemen follow the ex-ample of the other brotherhoods, the rank of federation will be increased by 600,000 men.

Delegates were of the opinion that with the entry of the brotherhoods the federation will lack the demand of the railroad men for government ownership and control of the roads. This subject has been referred to the executive council with instructions to formulate a policy.

In addition to taking action on the shorter work day, the convention to-day pledged its support to the striking commercial telegraph operators and appointed a committee to confer with Postmaster General Burleson in the hope of obtaining for the telegraphers the same concessions which have been granted to electrical and telephone workers.

A resolution was adopted request-ing Congress to investigate the alleged suppression of free speech and other American institutions in West-ern Pennsylvania, while another res-olution severely criticized municipal officials in Toledo for employing dis-charged soldiers in uniform to per-form civil police duty in a strike.

BROOKLET PLANS BIG POTATO CURING PLANT

STOCK BEING SOLD FOR ORGAN-IZATION OF PLANT WITH 5,000 BUSHEL CAPACITY.

Brooklet, the largest city between Statesboro and Savannah, junction point of the Savannah and States-boro and the Shearwood railways, center of one of the best farming communities in the county, and all other step forward.

She is adding a potato curing plant to her industrial life.

At a meeting held there Wednesday afternoon, at which were present fifty of the leading farmers and busi-ness men of the county, stock sub-scriptions were opened and a tem-porary organization was perfected. C. S. Cromley was elected chairman of the organization and J. W. Robert-son secretary. More than $2,500 of the capital stock was subscribed for, and the officers were empowered to continue the sale to an amount ap-proximating $5,000.

J. N. Shearouse, one of the largest business men of the county, agreed to donate a site for the location of the plant and to take $500 worth of the stock in addition.

The proposition is to erect a cur-ing house with a capacity of 15,000 bushels. It is estimated that this capacity will care for the product from 1,000 acres, and the farmers of the community are enthusiastic in the determination to reach that acre-age before the end of another sea-son.

The organization of the plant is being promoted through the instru-mentality of Mr. J. G. Lidliff, county agricultural agent. The meeting Wednesday was addressed by Mr. G. E. McWhorter, agriculturalist of the Central of Georgia railway.

RAIN BRINGS END TO SERIES WITH DUBLIN

Rain both Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon prevented the completion of the series of three games of base-ball scheduled between Statesboro and Dublin on the local diamond, the first of which was won by the visitors Monday afternoon.

The inability to complete the series was a distinct disappointment to the home people, who were highly inter-ested in the outcome.

The Dublin boys came in Monday morning and had a strong line-up. The teams were apparently pretty well matched, with Statesboro lead-ing until the eighth-inning, when the visitors took the lead and won the game.

SHOPS AT DOUGLAS

CITIZENS ANGERED AT TREATMENT GIVEN MRS. HARDY CORN BY HER HUSBAND.

Douglas, June 24.—During last night unknown parties painted the front of the Corn Bros. barber shop here with a coat of yellow paint, also gave the law office of R. H. Chastain the same treatment, due, it is said, to the attorney's hand in the Corn case, which has developed into one of the liveliest matters Douglas has known in years.

The trouble began with the departure from the city of Hardy Corn, who is alleged to have disposed of his property here and gone away with his three children, leaving his wife at a local dressmaker's. Citizens became enraged at the treatment accorded Mrs. Corn and since her husband's departure have been making things unpleasant for the man's brothers here, to whom it is claimed Corn sold his business.

Hardy Corn is believed to have gone to some point in Florida, but the authorities here have asked officers at numerous Georgia points to help them in the search for him.

Mrs. Corn is prostrated over the loss of her children, one of whom is only a year old. Her condition today is said to be critical. She became hysterical when the man who drove her husband away from here returned and was unable to tell where the children had been taken.

Lee and Ira Corn, the brothers remaining here, left the city to avoid trouble with a party of citizens who gathered in front of their barber shop.

SINKING OF SHIPS
SOLVES A PROBLEM

GENERAL FEELING OF RELIEF THAT HUN SAILED MADE BOLD MOVE

(Macon Telegraph.)

The general feeling, as reflected from official circles and by public expression, is one of relief that the German crews at Scapa Flow electrified the world and immortalized themselves at least in the German song and story of the future by sinking all their ships and taking for the shore. There can be no doubt they have gone a long way toward solving a situation that rapidly was becoming more acute. Division of these ships in the event of their not being sunk was as troublesome and unsettled a matter as the question of whether or not they should be sunk.

They're pretty nearly sunk now. What haven't gone down are no good for much but junk and are a whole lot easier to make a settlement on junk than it is to allocate battleships to contending victors. Thus a moot question is written off with no small satisfaction and relief by diplomats, while naval officials may fume and fume and feel chagrined to their heart's content. As a matter of fact it is a development that raises the half malicious suspicion the gentlemen who wrote down the armistice terms apprehended something of the sort and took good care nothing was provided that might prevent it. The fact that the German crews were left alone on their ships at all times, to say the least, without guard, or watch over them, that these crews were of the same ilk and tradition as those sailors who tried to scuttle every interned ship in American waters, once war was declared, and ruined their ships they couldn't sink, at least raises the reflection that if the gentlemen who framed the armistice were apprehensive of trouble coming up over disposal of the captured ships left every gate open for the problem to escape and settle itself with the least trouble to them. A any rate the question is settled with no complications looming up.

The officers and sailors who did the job well, of course, have to be handled, or at least some of them. The higher commands who arranged it will doubtless be arraigned and charged of some sort be brought. Some sort of sentence will be pronounced. And that will be all. The boats are boats no longer.

THE PREACHER AND HIS JAY.

When Rev. W. A. Wray, pastor of the Sanderville Baptist church, dispatched a disturbing jaybird from his church in the presence of his congregation a few Sundays ago, he made a noise with his gun which has been almost the entire globe.

Most of the comment passed upon the minister's action has been adverse, not to say caustic.

In truth, the mere thought of firing a shotgun in the house of worship on a Sabbath day is repelling. Naturally, therefore, one pictures the pastor as moved by anger that the jay should disturb his discourse, and he is criticised on that score.

The preacher's official board have been called upon to make a statement in regard to the matter, which presents it in different light. The truth seems to be that the bird was roosting high in the ceiling of the church and persisted in making a disturbance during the service before preaching began. Efforts to drive him out had failed. As a last resort a small-calibre shotgun, carrying only a small load of shot, was brought in from the pastor study, and he, being adept in its use, shot the bird before beginning his sermon.

And what of it? Who of our readers but has been moved to see the necessity of such drastic action during the progress of church services in the past? Have you never, kind reader, been disturbed by the lazy stride of a bound dog among the pews of a country church while the preacher was at the height of his sermon? Have you never been moved to distraction by the sharp barking of a fine under a front bench, or his vicious scratching for fleas, or his howling of an infant in its mother's arms on occasions? Even have you never been disturbed by the whispering of a love-sick couple, and longed for a weapon of some kind to put an end to the disorder?

Preacher Wray set an example worthy to be followed. We honestly believe the preachers throughout the country might well carry their loaded weapons with them into the pulpit, and use them when occasion should arise. It would never be necessary to shoot, perhaps, because the knowledge of its presence would of itself command respectful attention from disturbers.

Of course, too, there are those who go to criticism or to snore. The snoring kind would be kept awake, and the critic would hold his tongue.

When Christ went among the money-changers in the holy temple, he carried a buggy whip and ran the crowd out. He was not afraid of violating the properties. He believed in driving out the disturbers. There was some little excitement after he lashed the money-changers roundly, but he went on with his preaching, and the effect was good from that day to this. Now days a buggy whip might not be sufficient to preserve order in some of our churches. It certainly wouldn't stop the squeaking of a jaybird in the top loft. Therefore it became necessary for the Sanderville preacher to use the force necessary to clear his church.

We rather incline to the belief that Rev. Mr. Wray was justified in walking up his congregation and dispatching the jaybird at one shot. It was not exactly a case of "killing two birds with one stone," but it served two purposes at one shot.

A COUNTY SOLICITOR.

A measure which will again come before the legislature at the present time, and which fully merits success, is that which provides for the abolition of solicitor general and the position of county solicitor.

The present plan of a district attorney, whose duty it is to represent the state in criminal matters in every county in a judicial circuit, was well enough in its day, but its day of usefulness has been outworn. When court was held in a county seat, the county each six months for only a day or two at a time, and when there were possibly no local attorneys in the county qualified or willing to represent the state, it was well enough to have the district attorney accompany the court from county to county for the semi-annual sessions.

Today there are very few counties in the state, possibly, where there are not competent attorneys to look after the state's interest in criminal matters. Most of the counties, if not all of them, have other courts with jurisdiction almost equal with that of the superior court. The prosecuting attorney of these counties are on the ground and ready for the prosecution of all matters within the jurisdiction of the court they represent, yet the graver and more important matters are often neglected for want of prosecution.

A case in point occurred in this county a few days ago. In a family row, one brother slew another. The slayer was arrested by the sheriff and lodged in jail. He was held one week and demanded a preliminary hearing, as he had a right to do. The sheriff notified the solicitor general of the circuit of the hour and date of the hearing, but it so happened that the solicitor general had other business which engaged his attention at that time. The hearing came on, and the defendant was represented by able counsel, while the state was not represented. He was dismissed.

No matter what the facts in the case were, there was no way to bring them before the preliminary court, except as the witnesses volunteered. It being a family matter, it was not natural that the truth was delved for very vigorously.

There ought to have been an attorney present to represent the state. If the system had called for a county solicitor having jurisdiction, the state would have been represented.

The fees received by the solicitor of the city court of Statesboro are said to amount to approximately $5,000 per year. The court jurisdiction does not extend to cases classed higher than misdemeanors. It is not his duty to prosecute murder charges, and he could not do so without presuming to usurp the duties of the district solicitor unless he was specifically employed by some one interested in the prosecution.

Beyond that, the law does not make it the duty of the solicitor general to represent the state at preliminary hearings. If he chose to do so, it would be at his own expense, which would naturally amount to a considerable sum in the course of a year where he attempted to cover the entire circuit. A county attorney, already on the ground, would be presumed to be familiar with conditions and ready to give attention to such matters when needed.

There ought to be a county attorney in every county.

MR. BRANNEN'S TRIP TO DAWSON RE-UNION

I was a delegate to the state reunion of Confederate Veterans at Dawson, for which place I left on Sunday morning, June 15th.

I had business in Atlanta, so on my way I spent part of my time in Atlanta and out to College Park with my daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Hayden. They have a nice home and plenty. I enjoyed the nice ripe peaches and peach cream with their business and the buying and selling of automobiles and of accessories supplies and parts for automobiles, and the conducting of an automobile repair business.

5. The capital stock of said corporation shall be twenty thousand dollars, all of which has been actually paid in, with the privilege of increasing the same to one hundred thousand dollars, by a majority of vote of stockholders, said stock to be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each.

6. Petitioners desire the right to sue and be sued, to plead and be pleaded, to have and use a common seal, to make all necessary by-laws and resolutions and to do all other things that may be necessary for the successful carrying on of said business, including the right to buy, hold, and sell real estate and personal property suitable to the purposes of the corporation, and to execute notes and bonds as evidence of the indebtedness incurred, or which may be incurred in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation and to secure the same by mortgage, security deed, or other form of lien under existing laws.

They desire for said corporation the power and authority to apply for and accept amendments to its charter of either form or substance by a vote of a majority of its stock outstanding at the time. They also act authority for said corporation to wind up its affairs, liquidate and discontinue its business at any time it may determine to do so by a vote of two-thirds of its stock outstanding at the time.

I passed through the fine peach orchards of Houston county where we saw thousands of bushels of finest kind of peaches and bought a few baskets of them. They were delicious and ripe. We feasted on them going and coming.

Dawson is a fine little town of five thousand people, has four banks and one million dollars on deposit. They have a fine court house and churches and homes, broad streets and good roads. I and others took auto rides some ten miles out in the country to look at the farms. The farms are not fenced like ours. Some farms seem to have as much as a thousand acres in some plantations. The land is level and very fertile, dark, red soil—fine cotton land and corn and oats and wheat land. They are as clear as big hearted as I ever met any where so that is lots to say, as I have been in twenty-six states.

Long live the good people of Dawson! WILEY W. BRANNEN.

STORE LIQUOR IN ONE'S OWN HOME

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE WOULD ALLOW USE OF ALL WHISKY IN ONE'S OWN DWELLING.

Washington, June 24.—A man's right to store liquor in his home for the long dry period after July 1, stood up against an attack on that provision of the prohibition enforcement bill before the house judiciary committee.

Near the end of an all day session the committee voted down an amendment which would have made it unlawful for a citizen to have liquor in his possession; struck out a section which would have prevented "use" by a citizen of liquor in his private dwelling, and decided that in the matter of general enforcement there would be no difference between war time and constitutional prohibition.

Even with this and other changes the bill as it will be reported out tomorrow or Thursday is considered as all-embracing. So drastic are its provisions, members of the committee said, that while a man may put a keg of beer in his cellar he may be convicted and fined if, for instance, he wears a watch box on which there is a picture of the keg as an advertisement.

In a general consideration of the measure the committee made a number of minor changes, but the principle fight was over the question of the right of home storage for personal use. Representative Morgan, republican, of Oklahoma, endeavored to have stricken out the section reading that "it shall not be unlawful to possess liquor in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling."

Ardent prohibitionists on the committee voted against the Morgan proposal for the reason, they said, that nothing was to be gained by enacting a law so drastic as to arouse the hostility of people who reject that the day of the saloon has ended. Prohibition members supported an amendment eliminating the provisions that liquor be obtained and placed in storage prior to date of act would become effective. As amended the section reads: "It shall not be unlawful to possess liquor in one's private dwelling while the same is occupied and used by him as his dwelling."

Representative Gard, democrat, of Ohio, led the fight to strike from the bill the word "use" as applied to the right of home consumption. His amendment also included the striking out of the word "give away," "receive," and "possess," but the committee insisted that these should stand. It was said there was no particular fight on Mr. Gard's proposal, and as amended the word "use" was retained.

"That no person shall on or after the date when the 18th amendment to the constitution of the United States goes into effect, nor while the war prohibition act shall be in force, manufacture, sell, barter, give away, import, transport, export, deliver, furnish, receive or possess any intoxicating liquor except as authorized in this act and all the provisions of this act shall be literally construed to the end that intoxicating liquor as a beverage may be
